Virally Speaking (Internet Safety)

Wednesday, March 26, 6:30-7:30pm

Teens are creating a digital footprint that can last a long time in cyberspace. Things they post can be forwarded by others and viewed by vast anonymous audiences. Educating teens to self-reflect before they self-reveal, will more than likely help their online experiences be safer. Come hear about important steps to help keep your preteens and teens safe on the Internet. From behaving respectfully and responsibly, to knowing what to upload and download, and what kinds of interactions to avoid.

Helping your children become responsible digital citizens is what will ultimately keep them safe online.
